

CHURN VALLEY HASH HOUSE HARRIERS

The Kings Head, Withington.

Hares Blameless & Sheena. Oct 23rd 2011. Mag. no. 1541

I know we are getting older and our memories are going but I am sure all those present today will remember this latest Blameless Hash!!!!

Some will have fond memories of a beautiful sunny day, some of the quaint pub, Carlross will recall almost being trampled by a frisky foal, but most will remember so many check backs we almost disappeared where the sun don't shine!!

As usual with a Blameless hash his co hare was nowhere to be seen "She's out laying trail" he said. "Hiding from you more like" came the reply.

The usual BB start (Blameless Bulh*t) and the production of the Taiwanese sat nav. giving distances in various codes.

Anyway about 25 Hashers set off down the hill in trepidation of what lay ahead. Basically Blameless laid a trail of about 2 miles, which has lots of clever? Well thought out? Cunning? Bloy evil check backs which made it a full hours Hash.

The longs split from the mediums only to find an unbarred check back. We caught them at a regroup outside The Mill Inn where Sheena was waiting. I think she was hoping they would be open so she could pop in and so hide from any association with her man. Who could blame her, he drove her to it!!!

Another split and off we hashed in two directions up the hill toward Chedworth only to find check backs for L & M. Ho Ho!

Another split and yes you guessed check backs all round.

At this point Blameless was said to be as popular as Saddam. " But he's dead" I cried.

" So's Blameless from the neck up" came Troop's reply!

Another split another check back, sorry am I boring you? You should have been there!

Then the coup d'grace. Another split and the longs heading for Andoversford. Into a field and "Checkback" called Carlross. So we searched and started back "No over the bridge" said BB. So we all looked and found a CHECKBACK! "Oh sorry, on back" called the hare!

Some hashers have a funny sense of humour!

One last split which most of the longs ignored and back to the pub just behind the mediums.

The walkers had returned okay and Special K had another successful outing running with Willow, just Kwwhy to train now.

Caviar said Groper is hoping to do 14 marathons next year. If you see him out training, shoot him it will be a kindness, his brain has obviously overloaded.

APRES

Cosy little pub as usual with us the only customers, should we be getting commission these days?

Many thanks to Sheena for keeping Blameless on a leash and curbing some of his excesses.

Thanks to Blameless for an interesting use of territory trail.

No Bags and no Sheeps Hat so all the miscreants were happy.
