

CVH3 HASH MAG

The Bathurst Arms, North Cerney No 1607

A good turnout of 40 or so Hashers and a number of dogs on a warm evening at the Bathurst Arms. MP1 and Mike St John were the hares, and laid trails which turned out to be longer than mentioned in the briefing (as usual).

Starting by the river Churn, the route lay up the side of a couple of valleys, but the entire bunch of medium hashers missed their turn-off and so did the long instead. Dire warnings of 'frisky' heifers were given at the start, but they turned out to be the doziest deadist cows this side of Macdonalds.

Passing along the side of the river, one hasher took the plunge, but it was a false trail. Nobody else plunged in after him. The trail then lead along the edge and round the top of a pretty valley via Rendcomb Village, then down and up the other side. At this point, the length of the grass began to slow me down, at least that is my excuse.

Back through a long wooded path to a regroup, but this section had us strung out over quite a distance. Then across fields back to North Cerney, and a good few beers outside the Bathurst Arms.

Battery Bunny had been awarded both the Sheeps Hat and the Bags for a spectacular fall onto his nose last week, and gave the bags to Barry the Spit for an undue comment about BB looking like a garden gnome, and the Sheeps Hat to Kwhy who was 'controlling' Willow, but left her way behind to beat up Elsie in the large, last field.

At least this week had no fording of rivers like last week (the Thames at least twice) and I managed not to fall on my nose again.

Battery Bunny

Future Trails

1609 07 July 2013 The Old Crown Inn, 17 The Green, Uley Dr Do Little and Private Parts
Dursley, Glos GL11 5SN

1610 15 July 2013 The Trout Inn, St Johns Bridge, Battery Bunny and Beth
Faringdon Road, Lechlade, Glos GL7 3HA