

Churn Valley Hash House Harriers

Run 1618 – The Weighbridge Inn

A fine evening for the last of the Monday runs, a good turnout, in a stunning location. Bellend, our Hare, told of three trails, a Long (which should take less than an hour as he had run it in 52 minutes exactly), a probable slightly shorter Medium and a Walk. So off the pack set, Longs and Mediums down the valley, the Short on up or so they thought, until called back after the 1st misdemeanor of the evening for crossing a T bar in the wrong direction! Tut tut.

The trail wound up through the woods, where the “Tooting” tawnys were drowned out by the calls of ON ON, and on up into Box with lovely views over the valley, before heading down towards Balls Green and the mills. No other flouting of protocol was noted, apparently everyone behaving beautifully!!! ALTHOUGH a source does tell me that Fishfingers tried a spot of self botox by swiping a stinging nettle across his forehead, and consequently had to endure the rest of the night with Tingling Effect.

Back at the pub just before dark set in, to enjoy those delicious pies. The bags were awarded to our Hare for being selective with the truth, as no Medium split was ever found. The sheephath was awarded incorrectly by Guyless to Marathon Pete 2, when she meant Marathon Pete 1 who in the event hadn't done much to deserve it, but WHO had (its all so confusing), anyway the hat went to and fro as neither of the recipients would be Hashing today and eventually ended up in the hands of Fishfingers, who probably did deserve it for all that tingling.

A jolly good trail and a fitting finish for the summer runs.
